BOWSER UNWORTHY, RETAILING GOSSIP CONCEALING, PREMIER SAYS

Pitiable Thing to See Ex-Premier of Province So Loose With Statements and Spreading Inaccuracies to Create False Impression On People of Province; Oliver Asserts In Preliminary Reply to Opposition Leader's Attacks.

Premier Oliver, in half an hour before the House adjourned last evening, charged Mr. Bowser, Conservative Leader, with using subtlety in his treatment of facts so as to create a false impression throughout the country.

The Premier made a beginning on his speech in the debate in reply to attack on the Government which Mr. Bowser delivered in the afternoon. He took up only a few of Mr. Bowser's points and then adjourned the debate until this afternoon.

"Mr. Bowser seeks to create a false impression before the public," the Premier said. "And in doing so he takes a position that is unworthy of a man who seeks to aspire to the position of Premier of this Province. Those who have heard him this afternoon will say that he is not a man who is to be trusted."

"He had admitted himself that he has come on the floor of this House with gossip and brought it to the attention of members of this House. I think it is a pitiable thing when an ex-Premier of this Province and leader of the great Conservative party should take two and one-half hours of the time of this House in retailing gossip that he has picked up in his journeys through the Province. It proves once again that that gentleman has never been very particular about the accuracy of his statements."

As a fair example of many of these statements, the Premier said he would refer to the assertions Mr. Bowser made about Joe Wise being in charge of the liquor store at South Westminister, when it was shown that Joe Wise had been dead twenty years, dead twenty years.

Started as "Party Traitor."
The Premier said he remembered in 1898 when Mr. Bowser was seeking to break into politics and how he endeavored to get the Conservative nomination in Vancouver and failing in this he bolted the Conservative convention, ran as an independent and was elected. He then said that that was that man's entrance into public life—a traitor to his party."

He then asserted that Mr. Bowser had sacrificed on the altar of his ambitions the newest member of the House, Mr. A. H. McLeod, who he put him up Tuesday to adjourn the debate, which action resulted in him being disqualified from taking part in the debate.

The Premier, dealing with Mr. Bowser's references to the Nelson-Ymir road, declared that that proposal had been before the public for years and had not been undertaken by the former Government when it had millions of dollars in the treasury.

No Secret Orders-in-Council
He recalled how Mr. Bowser, when in power, had refused to grant members of the House the right to examine Orders-in-Council as they were passed during the year and contented that action with that of the present Government when he himself as Premier introduced the resolution which makes it possible for them to do so.

APPROVE CHANGE
IN LONDON TIMES
Many Britishers Pleased
Walters in Control Again

Special to The Times.
London, Nov. 3.—Sir Campbell Stuart is receiving congratulations from all over Canada on the decision he has played in restoring the Times to its traditional associations. Further details of his struggle with Lord Rothmere are available and they make an interesting reading. Lord Northcliffe's will directed that the Times should be offered to the first bidder who offered the best price. Sir Campbell Stuart owned the paper, but what was more important, he had a contract as managing director of the newspaper which had two years more to run. Having lost Lord Rothmere's support, he was in a difficult position. He succeeded in this powerful position, he succeeded in getting the Times back into the hands of the family, and known as a young millionaire, and with a distinguished record and high ideals of public service. Major Astor and the Walters purchased the Northcliffe shares and The Times returned again to the control of the Walter family.

Many Pleased.
The struggle for The Times had repercussions in the highest political quarters here. Its outcome has been a matter of pleasure to countless Britishers who have longed for the day when it would be owned only one of Lord Northcliffe's many and divergent enterprises.

It is understood the policy of The Times will be a restoration to its former role, namely, that of a supporter of the Government wherever possible, and a critic particularly of a British foreign policy which would not be that of every country, but of Britain primarily, as has been the case recently. The friendly attitude of The Times towards the Dominion is anything but becoming more friendly.

CITY ASKS FOR SIX-CENT RATE FOR LIGHTING

Urge One-cent Cut and Abolition of Meter Rent Here

Want Lower Rate For Bridge Operation Also Requested

That electric lighting rates here be reduced from seven to six cents per kilowatt hour, and that the present meter rent of 20 cents a month be abolished, was the proposal laid before the British Columbia Electric Railway Company by representatives of the City Council at a lengthy conference yesterday afternoon.

A. T. Goward, Victoria Manager of the Company, promised the city representatives that he would consider the proposed rate cuts, and would make a definite reply soon.

Alderman Joseph Patrick, Chairman of the City Public Utilities Committee, which met Mr. Goward, explained that the City Council felt that Victoria was entitled to a reduction in the rates prevailing in neighboring cities. The Council, he said, desired a reduction also in rates for power used in industrial districts. He agreed that the present seven-cent rate and abolition of the present monthly meter rent would be satisfactory to the Council. Mr. Goward declared that if his company were to cut down its revenue in one direction it must make it up in another if it was to keep going. He agreed, however, to take the Council's proposal under careful advisement and observed that the city was perfectly entitled at any time to appeal for rate reductions.

Power Rates.
In connection with power rates it was explained that different rates are charged to individual industries. Thus it was impossible to scale these rates up or down by a blanket increase. The city representatives agreed that power rates were a matter for individual treatment, but emphasized the importance of satisfactory rates in the promotion of industry here.

Bridge Power Cost.
Alderman Patrick and his colleagues asked the company to make a substantial reduction in the rates for power needed to operate the new Johnson Street Bridge. The proposed rate, which would make the monthly cost of operation about $250, was much too high, the aldermen contended. Mr. Goward promised to consider this matter also.

Two Bandits Were Killed on Train
Guards Unable to Prevent the Escape of Four

Pouches of Mail Taken in Missouri

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 3.—A passenger train from St. Louis was held up and robbed by masked bandits near Wittenberg, Mo., this morning. Two of the bandits were shot and killed by the train crew, but the others escaped with a number of pouches of mail.

Postal officials had been warned several days ago that an effort would be made to hold the train and extra guards heavily armed had been riding in the mail and express cars. As soon as the hold-up occurred the guards opened fire on the robbers, who returned the fire. None of the train crew were wounded.

Six men were in the bandit gang.

NITTI, FORMER PREMIER OF ITALY, TO GO TO STATES

Rome, Nov. 3.—Former Premier Francesco Nitti is reported to have made application for a passport to go to the United States.

There is no love lost between ex-Premier Nitti and the Fascists. His newspaper, Il Paese, was several times raided by Fascist bands, and during the recent overturn in Rome police guards had to be placed around his office to prevent the Fascists from invading them.

7,500 REFUGEES AT KOREAN PORT

Vladivostok People Aboard Twenty-six Ships

Admiral Does Not Know Where to Take Them

Tokio, Nov. 2.—Seventy-five hundred refugees fleeing from Vladivostok and the new Red rulers of the capital are virtually stranded aboard twenty-six Russian vessels in the harbor at Gensan, Korea, according to a special dispatch published today by The Nichi Nichi.

The vessels carrying the homeless adherents of the anti-Soviet Government are in command of Admiral Stark and include seven gunboats, four dispatch boats and nine transports. The refugees are white soldiers, civilians and their families and several hundred sick and wounded.

Short of Provisions.
Owing to the difficulties of receiving such a large number of persons in the small city of Gensan, the authorities ordered the ships to depart. Admiral Stark, however, has advised the city officials that his ships are short of coal and provisions and that the situation is so bad that he is unable to have a newspaper correspondent that he does not know where to go next.

Admiral Stark was in command of the military and naval forces of the Vladivostok Soviet Government under General Ditricks. The Red forces of the Far Eastern Republic entered the capital on October 26, when the evacuation of the city was completed by the Japanese. The badly beaten by the Reds just prior to the evacuation, and the population fled from the city while it was still in control of the Japanese.

MANY REFUGEES ARE AT HUNCHUN

Tokio, Nov. 3.—Official reports indicate that thousands of Russian refugees from Vladivostok are at Hunchun, Manchuria, in a deplorable condition. Supplies are exhausted in the district. Some of the exiles are reported selling their children to Chinese.

The first general order issued by the new Red Government of Vladivostok prohibits gambling and the use of opium or cocaine.

The Japanese warship Katsura will return to its port November 10. The Kishin will remain in Vladivostok through the winter. Perfect order is reported in the Siberian port.

FIFTEEN-HOUR DAY IS MINISTERS' LOT

New Italian Premier Extremely Energetic Leader

Each Minister Given Problem to Solve

Rome, Nov. 3.—(Associated Press)—Benito Mussolini, the new Premier, in addition to working fifteen hours daily, "exacts" this is a favorite word of his—that all his Ministers also shall work hard.

To each member of his Government Mussolini has allotted a task, desiring to solve in a relatively short time the difficult problems that since the war have found no solution because of the alleged incompetence of Parliament, unless party struggles and the weakness of the various succeeding governments which lasted only a few months each.

EXPENDITURE IS TO BE REDUCED

Mussolini believes the most urgent question of all is the balancing of the budget. Believing it is impossible further to increase taxation, as it has reached the extreme limit beyond which revenue decreases rather than augments owing to the collapse of production, he has decided the inevitable remedy is a decrease in expenditures. Thus, the new Premier has entrusted to each Minister the task of suppressing any useless offices in his department and the doing away with all unnecessary civil servants.

He has expressed the belief that a great source of economy for Italy can be obtained in a very short time by vigorously suppressing all the bureaucratic parasites that have arisen from the state of Socialism inaugurated by subservient Cabinets who wished to transform the entire country into a mass of civil servants in order to use them as a powerful electoral machine.

The selection of the Caliphs is to be made by the Grand National Assembly of Turkey, which will choose that member of the Imperial family who is the best instructed, the best educated, the most honest and the wisest.

U. B. C. STUDENTS APPEAL IN PERSON TO CABINET FOR NEW VARSITY BUILDINGS

University students themselves, represented by A. E. Richards, J. A. Grant and P. M. Barr put their case for the construction of the new University of B. C. buildings at Point Grey to Premier Oliver and members of his Cabinet at noon today.

Although the delegation was few in number, the Ministers declared that it was one of the strongest that had ever appeared before the executive.

The students in their speeches asserted that they felt they had the backing of the whole Province as they had been touring during the Summer and testing out public opinion in all parts.

They told how the 1,157 students, now at the University were badly handicapped for lack of room.

The young men were introduced by Capt. I. A. Mackenzie and presented a side of the case to the cabinet which provided new light for the ministers. The latter asked the delegation many questions regarding accommodation, faculty difficulties and the like, and were surprised at the comprehensive grasp shown of the situation.

Before meeting the Government the delegation organized the students of Victoria College, 280 strong, and secured their unanimous support. This institution is affiliated with the University of B. C.

TURKISH ASSEMBLY TO CHOOSE CALIPH

Angora Parliament Declares Its Supremacy in Turkey

Government Keystone of Caliphate, It States

Constantinople, Nov. 3.—The Angora Assembly last night decided unanimously that it is invested with sovereign rights and that the Turkish Nationalist Government is the keystone of the caliphate, and to-day the newspapers carry these headlines: "Ottoman Empire has collapsed. In its place there has arisen new national Turkish state—Sultanate abolished."

The Assembly's decision was announced by a salute of 101 guns. Immediately the soldiers and civilians began to celebrate to the blare of military bands and the bright flares of torch-bearers.

FEWER ORIENTAL FISHING LICENSES

Duff Commission's Recommendation For B.C. Coast

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—(Canadian Press)—Further curtailing of the issue of fishing licenses to Orientals on the Pacific Coast, it is understood, awaits action by the Government on the report of the Duff Commission, which investigated the British Columbia fisheries during last Summer. From time to time in the House of Commons there have been strong pleas made, especially by British Columbia members, for curtailment of the granting of fishing licenses to Orientals (British subjects of Japanese origin) and prior to the appointment of the Duff Commission decision had been reached to reduce the issue of such licenses from ten to fifty per cent.

Cut By One-Third.
In furtherance of this decision, the number of licenses available to Oriental salmon fishers was this year reduced by one-third. The commission and the probability that it would recommend some definite course of action to reduce the number of licenses.

The commission has now made a preliminary report which is understood to recommend both reduction in the issue of licenses to Japanese and re-organization of the Department of Marine and Fisheries in such a way as to ensure increased attention to fisheries.

Next Season.
Practically all this year's licenses have already been issued. Any further reductions brought into effect will therefore not be operative until next season.

In 1921, 6,702 fishing licenses were issued in which Orientals participated. Of this total, 2,314 were held by British subjects of Japanese origin.

B.C. CIVIL SERVANTS NOW ONLY 1,262. MEMBERS LEARN

Shrinkage Has Been Among Men Who Are Not Returned Soldiers

Government Liability For Pensions in Force Now Amounts to $417,023

Fourth annual report of the B. C. Civil Service under Commissioner MacInnes, presented in the Legislature this afternoon by the Hon. J. D. MacLean, Provincial Secretary, shows that at the end of last year the total of the permanent service had been brought down from 1,350 in 1919 to 1,262.

The first table shows the civil list on Dec. 31, 1921, giving department by department the number of permanent and temporary persons. This table shows that on Dec. 31, 1921, the permanent service totalled 1,262 made up of 363 returned soldiers, 635 men not returned soldiers, 225 females and thirty-eight juniors. In the first civil list reported by the commission, Dec. 31, 1919, there were 1,350 on the permanent civil list of whom 361 were returned soldiers, 755 were men not returned soldiers, 212 were females and twenty-one were juniors.

The civil list in Dec. 1921, is eighty-eight less than in Dec. 1919, the number of returned soldiers is greater and the shrinkage is entirely without military record," Dr. MacLean said.

The report—with its various schedules therefore presents a most exhaustive and complete account of the work of the commission for the year.

Staff Changes.
Records of appointments, additions and removals, reinstatements and transfers are given since the commencement of the Civil Service Act, July 1, 1918.

During these three and one-half years 609 permanent appointments were made; of these 272 were returned soldiers, ten were former civil servants—re-engaged, seventy-nine men were not returned soldiers, 202 were females and forty-eight were juniors. In addition to these appointments 233 men who had been granted leave of absence for military duty were reinstated in the service and 382 changes in position were made.

During the year six civil servants who had been absent on leave were reinstated while new appointments to the permanent service totalled 142. Of these fifty-two were returned soldiers and twenty-six were men who were not returned soldiers, fifty-one were females and forty-eight were juniors. In addition to these appointments 233 men who had been granted leave of absence for military duty were reinstated in the service and 382 changes in position were made.

Schedules two and three give full details regarding the dates on which these reinstatements and appointments were made together with information regarding the positions and salary.

Of the 121 changes in position, some involved a merely transfer from one place in the service to another, but over sixty of these changes were accompanied by either a promotion to a higher position or a reduction in rank.

The Wisest.
The selection of the Caliphs is to be made by the Grand National Assembly of Turkey, which will choose that member of the Imperial family who is the best instructed, the best educated, the most honest and the wisest.

After these resolutions had been unanimously accepted amid applause Premier Ruff Bey ascended the tribune and proposed the proclamation of a national holiday on the anniversary of reaching this decision.

NOMINATIONS FOR BRITISH HOUSE OF COMMONS TO-MORROW

Much Speculation on Lloyd George's Plans; Conservative and Liberal Leaders Warn Workers Not to Misinterpret Labor's Municipal Defeat.

London, Nov. 3.—The report that Lloyd George is recovering so well from his cold and throat trouble that he will be able to fill his engagement to address a meeting in London to-morrow afternoon shares the chief interest of the voters of Great Britain to-day with the prospect of Labor in the general election.

The time limit for making nominations for Parliament will expire to-morrow, so there is a keen curiosity over what Lloyd George is going to do about his threat to "spread the war" against the Conservatives. Up to now he has not said anything definite as to his intentions in this matter and his silence has caused a mass of rumors. There is a hint that he might be willing to weld his National Liberals to the Free Liberals headed by former Premier Asquith, but the proportion of the electorate which takes this report seriously is not large.

Warning.
The sound thrashing Labor received in the municipal elections throughout England and Wales Wednesday has caused the opponent of Labor just as much worry as the Laborites themselves. The leaders are not without fear that the party workers may too readily assume that the local results are prophetic of what will happen in the parliamentary election. Warnings have been sent forth from both the Liberal and Conservative camps urging their workers not to abate their energies to prevent a Labor victory on November 15.

ASTOR INVESTS FUNDS IN BRITAIN

John Jacob, Brother of Viscount, Makes Statement

Candidate in Dover For British Commons

London, Nov. 3.—Major John Jacob Astor, brother of Viscount Astor, who is contesting Dover in the general election, replying to a heckler's question yesterday, said: "I am transferring my wealth from America to this country."

Major Astor, with J. A. Walter, recently purchased the late Lord Northcliffe's share in The London Times for more than $6,000,000.

ITEM GIVEN SPACE IN NEWSPAPERS

London, Nov. 3.—The remark made yesterday by Major John Jacob Astor, who is contesting Dover in the general election, replying to a heckler's question, that he was transferring his wealth from America to this country, was treated as a big item of news in this morning's papers. One headline read: "Astor millions coming here."

By some it was assumed that the major, who is a brother of Viscount Astor, merely referred to his recent investment in the late Lord Northcliffe's share of The London Times stock, which he and J. A. Walter purchased for more than $6,000,000, but others gave the remark a more sensational turn.

Major Astor, who is contesting for a seat in Dover in the Parliamentary election, made the statement in replying to a heckler, who inquired whether he was going to expose his own wealth to British taxation.

ORIGINAL ESTATE WAS $80,000,000

New York, Nov. 3.—There was much speculation in New York to-day over the reported statement in London yesterday by Major the Hon. John Jacob Astor, who is contesting for his seat in the House of Commons, that he was transferring his wealth from America to this country.

The realty and personal holdings of the late Baron William Waldorf Astor in the United States totalled more than $80,000,000, according to a referee's report filed last March in connection with the estate in which Major Astor participated with Viscount Astor, his elder brother. $50,000,000 is represented in realty. The property was valued at $25,000,000 in 1915 and the income from that source is placed at $5,291,260. In addition, Major Astor was given outright by his father Manhattan realty valued at more than $7,000,000.

Several pieces of New York property have been sold by Major Astor in the past few years, but it is considered unlikely he will dispose of all real estate in this country, but rather will transfer his income or personal property to Great Britain.

Major Astor, in conjunction with John A. Walter, recently purchased the late Lord Northcliffe's interest in The London Times at a price stated as $6,075,000.

TO MAKE PUBLIC NEW CATTLE RULES

British-Canadian Negotiations End in Agreement

Embargo Disappear; Grisdale Returns to Canada

London, Nov. 3.—(Canadian Press)—Before sailing from Southampton for home, Dr. J. H. Grisdale, Canadian Deputy Minister of Agriculture, who took part in the negotiations regarding legislation necessary to remove the British embargo against Canadian store cattle, said the Anglo-Canadian agreement would be published in Great Britain in a few days. It was, he said, satisfactory to both parties, though from the Canadian point of view the Dominion did not get all that was desired.

New York, Nov. 3.—The Washington correspondent of The New York World reports that he has "learned authoritatively" that Canada is to have either a minister or a High Commissioner with ministerial powers as her direct official representative in the United States capital.

The correspondent, in a dispatch printed in to-day's World, says that it is regarded in Washington as "especially significant as a first step in what ultimately may mean similar representation for the Irish Free State and other British Dominions."

The general impression in Washington, The World states, is that Sir Charles Fitzpatrick is not likely to be appointed for Canada.

CANADA TO HAVE MINISTER IN U.S.

Expected Appointment Will Be Made Soon

Narrower Field of Action Than First Debated

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—(Canadian Press)—Definite action in the appointment of a Canadian representative at Washington will, it is expected here, not be long delayed. The question was under consideration in the conversations between Premier King and Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador at Washington, in Ottawa early in the week. If, however, a Canadian representative at Washington is appointed, the scope of action is likely to be more restricted than was contemplated in the arrangement reached between Sir Robert Borden, then Prime Minister of Canada, and the Lloyd George Government in 1920. Under that arrangement Canada was to have a Minister Plenipotentiary at Washington, reporting to the Canadian Government taking instructions from the Canadian Government, and through the ordinary channels of communication dealing with the United States Government on matters of purely Canadian concern. In the absence of the British Ambassador—and it was on this feature that Premier King, then Leader of the Opposition, differed most sharply—the Canadian representative would take charge of the whole embassy, "and of the representation of Imperial as well as Canadian interests."

Mr. King, while agreeing with the general principle of Canadian representation at Washington, opposed the proposal that the Canadian representative should take charge of the British Embassy. He feared that it might lead to strained relations between Canada and Great Britain and would be putting the representative of Canada in a most unfair position.

Appointment Soon.
In view of the attitude taken by Mr. King and the Liberal Party in the House, it is not thought likely that the present Government will appoint a Canadian Minister clothed with the wide powers expressed in the 1920 arrangement. But although no official statement is yet available, the belief is current in political circles that the appointment of a Canadian representative at Washington will probably be made in the near future.

APPOINTMENTS BY OTHER DOMINIONS

New York, Nov. 3.—The Washington correspondent of The New York World reports that he has "learned authoritatively" that Canada is to have either a minister or a High Commissioner with ministerial powers as her direct official representative in the United States capital.

The correspondent, in a dispatch printed in to-day's World, says that it is regarded in Washington as "especially significant as a first step in what ultimately may mean similar representation for the Irish Free State and other British Dominions."

The general impression in Washington, The World states, is that Sir Charles Fitzpatrick is not likely to be appointed for Canada.

What British Columbia Politicians in Session Are Doing, Thinking and Saying in the Provincial Legislature.

The Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, has introduced into the House a bill to provide for the inspection and regulation of premises and equipment for the generation, transmission, supply and use of electrical energy.

The new act provides for the appointment of a chief inspector, and as many assistant inspectors as may be required, to replace the single inspector now used.

Besides supervising municipal buildings by-laws and general installation of equipment, the new act gives the inspector power to stop the sale of dangerous or defective types of electric heaters, switches and irons, as is now done in Ontario.

Dr. Sutherland explained that defective goods from provinces where inspections are carried out are being dumped into B. C. for sale, and periodically there is an influx into B. C. from the Orient of switches, fuses, lamps, sockets and wires of defective construction, but which are sold to the public at cut prices.

Premier Oliver is speaking this afternoon in the House, continuing on from the half hour he put in yesterday in replying to Mr. Bowser.

The debate will run on the early part of next week, some of the cabinet ministers and a few of the private members want to speak.

The Legislature will not meet Monday, as it has been set aside for Thanksgiving Day.

It will meet on Tuesday, but not until 3 o'clock; the Premier said this afternoon. The delayed opening will give Lower Mainland members a chance to spend a full Thanksgiving Day at home.

Premier Oliver is not able to reply to Mr. Bowser face to face in the House this afternoon, as Mr. Bowser has gone to Vancouver to take part in a Conservative organization meeting there to-night.

There were no tenders for P. G. E. insurance on buildings or equipment called this year, the Hon. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Railways, informed J. A. Catherwood, Conservative member for Dewdney, in the House.

Dr. MacLean explained that tenders were last called for in July, 1921. The lowest tender received was at a rate of 35 cents per $100 for first year, with a right to the railway company to renew for two additional years at a rate of 24 1/2 cents per $100. The railway has taken advantage of the right, and is now paying at the rate of 24 1/2 cents per $100.

The amount of insurance carried is $3,681,646 and it is carried with the Alliance Insurance Co., Ltd.

A. F. Proctor, chief engineer of the Department of Railways, who has been under suspension since the charge was brought against him for driving a motor car under the influence of liquor, has sent in his resignation, and the resignation has been accepted, Premier Oliver announced to the House.

He explained that the resignation was sent in some time ago, but was accepted effective the end of last month, as there were some things in the department which had to be fixed up.

Mr. Bowser brought the question up in the House with this result: Mr. Bowser—I have brought this to the attention of the House as I considered it my duty to do so. The head of the railway department has been indulging in strong liquor.

Major Burde—So has the member for Alberni.

Mr. Bowser—I believe that on the recent joy-ride over the P. G. E. of members of the House, he (Mr. Proctor) was also under the influence of strong liquor. And he is the man who had the authority to expend between ten and fifteen millions of dollars.

Premier Oliver—I wish to give an unqualified denial to that statement. The man who was reported to me as intoxicated on that trip—I was on that trip—was not Mr. Proctor but another railway man. I watched Mr. Proctor carefully and he was not intoxicated. I consider, possibly, that I was the soberest man on that trip.

Under the Amendments to the Dykes Assessment Act introduced in the Legislature by the Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, a section will be inserted providing an avenue through which the dykes department may acquire suitable and up-to-date equipment and be put in a position to undertake necessary work, such as renewals and repairs to dykes works and drainage works at a minimum cost.

Another feature is relative to collections on overdue assessments. It is proposed to do away with the present system of tax sales and to substitute a system of automatic forfeiture. This arose through the excessive costs of advertising and the cumbersome method laid down in the Act. Dr. Sutherland explained. That method provided for offering for sale at public auction and forfeitures to the Crown in the event of no bid.

A review of tax sale records over several years shows comparatively few bids and therefore a correspondingly large number of forfeitures to the Crown, proving the machinery of tax sale to be a needless expense," Dr. Sutherland said. "This led to the proposed change."

Laborites and Nationalists Reported Drawing Together.

Labor Party Drops Socialistic Objectives

Cape Town, South Africa, Nov. 3.—(Canadian Press Cable via Reuters).—Further interest in the matter of rapprochement between the Nationalists and Labor Party has been aroused by the announcement that a Labor meeting at Bloemfontein, the Orange Free State provincial capital, endorsed the advice of the leader, Colonel Cresswell, that it would be to the party's interest to drop Socialism as an objective.

This, taken in conjunction with recent utterances of the Nationalist leaders, which are regarded as shelving the republican issue, leads a Government organ to suggest that a bargain was recently arranged between Hertzog, leader of the Nationalists, and Cresswell.

Vancouver Police Say Pair Not Known There

Seattle, Nov. 3.—Cecilia Flynn, a pretty fifteen-year-old girl, and a man, were held at the local immigration station, where they were held for questioning.

J. R. Vail, Immigration Inspector, arrested the pair last Monday at Belingham, where Vail says they were following their enforced departure from Vancouver to escape the Canadian law. The girl states she was a toe dancer at a Vancouver cabaret, where she met Benz and fell in love with him. The couple will be held, it is said, for the Canadian authorities.

Not Known

Vancouver, Nov. 3.—The local police have no knowledge of the couple held in Seattle by United States immigration authorities under the names of Cecilia Flynn and Hugh Benz. They never came under the eye of the police in Vancouver, the authorities say.

Decrease in Males in Ten Years; More Females

London, Nov. 3.—Some interesting figures of the population of Greater London are disclosed by the latest census, which gives the total number of inhabitants at 7,480,201, the highest on record.

In the County of London alone the number increased from 959,310 in 1901 to 4,444,923 in 1921, the latter figure being made up of 2,071,579 males and 2,413,044 females.

The males decreased in the last ten years by 54,742 and the females increased by 17,600. The proportion of females to 1,000 males rose from 1,127 in 1911 to 1,165 in 1921 and there was an increase of 25,822 in 1921 during that period, attributable largely to the war.

The ratio of unmarried females to 1,000 unmarried males increased from 1,138 to 1,281 in the age group of twenty to twenty-nine and from 1,413 to 1,886 in the age group of thirty to thirty-nine.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. It's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. (Adv.)

DUNCAN BALL WAS A PLEASANT
SOCIAL EVENT

Special to The Times
Duncan—The Cowichan Agricultural Society's annual Halloween ball was well-attended, about 250 people being present. Some very pretty costumes were worn and the judges, Mrs. Barkley, J. C. E. Henslowe and Mr. McNaught, found it hard to select the prize winners. The prizes were ultimately awarded as follows:—Best dressed lady, Mrs. Ernest; best dressed gentleman, Mr. McNaught; best dressed couple, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Jackson as pierrots.

The hall was most tastefully decorated with the traditional black and yellow, with lovely lines of Autumn leaves strung across the room, two big ghosts at the steps and pumpkins, black cats, bats, etc., everywhere. Those in charge of this were: Mrs. Innes-Noad, Mrs. G. Stuart, Mrs. Garrard, Miss Innes-Noad and Messrs Barkley, Williams and McNaught.

An innovation which seemed to find much favor was the serving of supper in the balcony. This was in charge of Mrs. G. Baise and was most capably managed.

TO HAVE PIANO

Special to The Times.
Luxton—A new hall committee appointed to take charge of the Luxton Hall consists of three women and three men, namely, Messrs. D. Dwyer, F. Holmes, and Miss R. Brown. F. Holmes, Messrs. Dwyer and Messrs. Siminelli, O. Smith and F. Holmes. The committee is determined to do its utmost to raise funds to purchase a new piano, and the ladies have already planned to hold a silver tea at Mrs. Holmes's residence on Wednesday, November 8, at 2.30, to start the fund. A committee will be formed to take charge of a campaign to raise funds by contributions, entertainments, etc., towards the purchase of an instrument, without which it is felt, the district cannot hope to get full benefit of the use of the hall or to promote more social life. Luxton Hall, as is well-known, possesses the best dancing floor in the district.

Sooke News

Times Correspondence
Mr. and Mrs. Thun, of Duncan, spent the week-end at the Sooke Harbor Hotel.

A very enjoyable time was spent by the young folks of Sooke on Halloween at the Knox Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Lundie, superintendent of the Sunday School teachers and the Bible Class teachers, arranged a very happy evening, and a short concert was given. There were also games, apple ducking and lots of fun.

This week the children attending Sooke Superior School are being taught by Miss MacKinnon at the large Sooke Hotel. Miss Porter will be away from the Superior School for some time. She is going on very well since her operation for appendicitis. Last Friday the marriage was solemnized at Broadbent, Victoria, of MR. BOWSER STILL RIDING IN A 1918 MODEL.

At every session of the Provincial Legislature since the Liberal Government took office the Leader of the Opposition has delivered a lengthy contribution to the debate on the Address in reply to the Speech from the Throne. In 1917 it took a moderate form because of the fact that sufficient time had not elapsed between his own change of political fortune and the advent of the Brewster Administration. But in the following year it took concrete shape and was so constructed as to include practically everything that was at that time on the political calendar of the Province and likely to remain for several years. It was a stock pattern that could be changed in respect of detail, added to as occasion might warrant, or suitably curtailed to meet political exigency.

This is the pattern that has done duty ever since. There have been few changes. Little touches here and there have been noticeable; but in a general sense nothing but its arithmetical considerations have undergone seasonal revision, and these have been determined by the increase of the business of the Province. Last year's production began to disclose the author's weariness for the old theme. But the 1922 model betrays a tragic absence of innovation of any kind whatsoever. It contains no single constructive idea. Not even an attempt to redress the old bulk with some of the trappings of an almost brand new departure in the public service of the Province is apparent from the reported utterance of the Opposition Leader. Surely a subject with such entertaining possibilities as the Liquor Control Act might have brought forth an idea of usefulness at least.

Why is it that Mr. Bowser fails to recognize his duty to the people of British Columbia? For example he dealt with the Pacific Great Eastern. What would he do with it? Did his speech contain one constructive thought in connection with a liability that never would have existed had it not been for himself and the Government of which he was a dominant member? Not a single one. But it was his bounden duty as the Leader of the Opposition—as the one man more than any other in the Legislature who wants to become Premier of the Province again—to have indicated some policy. His political and personal intimacy with the whole background of the P. G. E. its very conception, should have enabled him to do it.

Mr. Bowser's constituency is much exercised about the University. What would he do about it? As Leader of the Opposition and, as such, more than ordinarily responsible to the people as a whole, and to the Vancouver supporters in particular, would he still indulge in criticism of the Government's financial policy and object with equal fervor to the construction of the buildings at Point Grey? The speech which he delivered yesterday afternoon sheds no light upon this important matter. What about public health and constructive pointers in reference to the development of the Province? Where were they? Not in yesterday's speech. Of course not; they are not interesting enough for Mr. Bowser. He prefers to amuse the galleries. But he mistakes the mirth of the spectators. They reflect afterwards. That is just the reason why Mr. Bowser is still in opposition and why he will remain there.

BRITAIN'S DANGER.

Although one would hesitate to believe that the stolidity of the average Briton has been really shaken by the Bolshevik "bogy," the result of the municipal elections on Wednesday would seem to suggest that the public mind has sustained something in the nature of an unnatural shock. Reactionary and die-hard will take the credit for the condition produced and lose no time in its capitalization. There lies the danger to the country and the best interests of the people.

Nobody will seriously believe that a Labor Government would throw the country into a panic. There is a general belief, however, that the time is not ripe for the adoption of such sweeping policies as those which the Labor Party champions. The case for a workingman Government has not been proven. A good deal more educational work will have to be put in before the average voter will sanction the experiment. And if the Labor candidates fare no better at the general election than they did in the municipal fight on Wednesday it will be because the electorate would prefer to risk something it knows more about than to plunge into what may be described as democracy too far advanced.

But the effect of the municipal fight and its result must be looked for in the next Parliament. Mr. Bonar Law's Cabinet already is composed of a preponderance of reactionary influence. It is not difficult to imagine the policy of a Government that would draw its support from private members of similar persuasion.

There is a breathing space before the people vote. Mr. Lloyd George will have to be reckoned with in the meantime. He will not see the fruits of his own reforms jeopardized by the capitalization of a mental condition that cannot be anything but transitory. None better than he understands the public mind. He will realize the psychological dangers of Wednesday's voting—and explain them in his own way.

VINDICATED AT LAST.

We are sure Bob Edwards, publisher of "The Eye-Opener" of Calgary, will be interested to learn of the high tribute to his journalistic labors implied by Canon Hinchliffe's reference to the well-known "Bob Edwards Annual" in support of his remarks on the educational system of the Province yesterday afternoon. The Annual, which embodies the various numbers of "The Eye-Opener" published during the year, occupies a rather unique place in the journalism of the country, and it is no less unique from the fact that Canon Hinchliffe is numbered among its admirers. Mr. Edwards, as a practical man, no doubt will be pleased with the advertisement the member for Victoria gave his publication yesterday, but whether he will regard it as a high vindication of the quality of its contents is another matter. The publisher of "The Eye-Opener" is somewhat discriminating in his affection and admiration for politicians. Perhaps he blames them for having his publication denied the privilege of His Majesty's mails some years ago. In any case the next time somebody rises to assail "The Eye-Opener" on account of the nature of some of its contents, Mr. Edwards will be able to flaunt in the faces of his critics Canon Hinchliffe's invocation of its columns in support of his views on education as presented by him on no less an occasion than the debate on the Speech from the Throne in the Legislature of British Columbia.

ANOTHER STEP.

In spite of the difficulties which were said to be bound to encompass an orderly or expeditious evacuation of Thracians by Greek troops General Harrington now reports that the last member of King George's army has crossed the Maritza River.

Very largely to the organizing ability of the British Commander-in-Chief, none the less by virtue of his diplomatic skill, may the success of this somewhat intricate and delicate operation be ascribed. Throughout the whole of the negotiations which preceded the armistice convention General Harrington displayed a calm tact and a soundness of judgment which furnished a striking commentary upon the excited atmosphere which the more hasty politician generated in more than one of the countries involved in the general dispute.

It now remains to be seen whether the tactics that the statesmen will employ at Lausanne will produce such apparently satisfactory results as those obtained by one who is not supposed to be schooled in the more delicate arts of diplomacy.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Premier Mussolini cannot be accused of being a slacker. He is reported to be a fifteen-hour-a-day worker with more than an inclination to "exact" a similar amount of application to duty from his colleagues. Progress at this rate should soon land him well on the way to a solution of some of Italy's difficulties. But his best plan would be to give some consideration to the advisability of asking the people if they are satisfied with his programme. To go ahead without popular sanction in these days is a dangerous procedure. The public has a way of taking things into its own hands—especially in that part of Europe where its nature is of the peppy variety.

Consider the strange case of James William Jones, member for South Okanagan in the Provincial Legislature, as recounted by himself during his criticism of the Hon. John Hart yesterday afternoon. Mr. Jones objected to the Finance Minister's manifestation of pride in the accuracy of his prediction made some months ago that the Canadian dollar would shortly come back to normal, and out of his own experience challenged the contention that such was now the case. He said that as recent as three weeks ago he was charged ten per cent. on Canadian money in the States. Now, as far back as two months ago, the Canadian dollar was at a premium in financial quarters in the United States, while no difficulty was experienced in getting par value for it in any important community where it was known. Why should Mr. Jones be picked upon in that crude way? Did he pay the ten per cent., or did he stick to his guns, or rather his Canadian dollar, and vindicate its status to the smart aleck who defamed it? It was particularly tough on Mr. Jones because at the very time he was told somewhere in the States that the Canadian dollar was at a ten per cent. discount there, the American dollar was—as it is now—at a discount in Canada.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Daily Times, November 3, 1897.

Dawson City, N. W. T., Sept. 13.—To the Klondike excitement is due a new phase in the art of peripling. An instance has been seldom, if ever, recorded where a grave was robbed, and the coffin utilized as a grub box, but such a gruesome incident occurred on the trail between Lakes Bennett and Lindemann, not far from Dyea, at the head of Lynn Canal, Alaska.

Vancouver, Nov. 2.—A terrific boiler explosion took place at 12.40 today, while the power had been turned off for ten minutes to adjust some portion of the machinery in the Royal City mills, and in two seconds the engine room was a heap of ruins.

a higher grade or an increase in salary.

On April 1, 1921, the Superannuation Act came into force, and those who were retired from the service after that date were retired under the conditions of that Act and full information regarding them will be given in the report of business done under the Superannuation Act.

Dr. MacLean said, "In schedule No. 7, however, information is given regarding those to whom superannuation allowances have been granted prior to April 1, 1921, and who were still drawing those allowances on December 31, 1921. This schedule is made quite complete for in addition to the name of the person and the position held there is also given the date of birth, the date on which they entered the service, their salary at retirement, the date on which they were retired, their length of service, the rate of superannuation, their age at the time of superannuation and their age at December 31, 1921, with the present value at that date of their allowance. The total liability in connection with the allowances in force at that date amounts to $417,023.79.

"During the year 1921, civil servants died, and pursuant to the provisions of Section 45 of the Civil Service Act their widows were granted a gratuity equal to three months salary, of which—of which are given in schedule No. 8.

"In Schedule No. 9 the Civil List on December 31, 1921, is given. In this list, the service is taken department by department and office by office and the name and position of each civil servant is set forth with a notation of whether he is a returned soldier or not married or single, the date of his birth, the date on which he entered the service, and his salary in March 1914, March, 1917, March, 1920 and December 1921, together with his grade. In view of the constant criticism of the civil service cost this schedule will likely be closely studied.

The information given about each position it will enable those who consider the service overmanned to deal specifically with the positions they wish eliminated."

any member of the House to go to the Provincial Secretary's office and inspect any Order-in-Council at any time.

We are not conducting Government in caucus and we never at any time told the people of this Province that we would not hold any caucus, the Premier went on.

In view of the fact that the passage of Orders-in-Council that we objected to, but the passage of secret Orders-in-Council such as that which authorized the payment of $105,000 for removing the Indians from the Songhees Reserve and $200,000 for the purchase of the Kispiox River, $20,000 of which sum passed through the hands of a clerk in my friend's office."

Makes Things Look Grotesque

The Premier declared that Mr. Bowser "tells who he is not, and the majority of the members of the House know it is an untrue statement" when he said that the caucus chose the two new ministers for him to put into office.

"The Leader of the Opposition belittled himself and lowered himself in the esteem of the people of this Province by the speech he made this afternoon," the Premier went on.

He will fill the galleries and we all admire his flow of language, his satire and the grotesque and ridiculous aspect he can give to the statements which he makes."

New Finances Improved

The Premier took up the Bank of Commerce statement which Mr. Bowser used to contrast the financial standing of the various Provincial Governments.

"When we took over the reins of government in this Province in 1915, going to be, the Premier went on, they told us that we could not expect to make up our deficits."

The Premier then read from the Canadian Bank of Commerce monthly letter, which gave the expenditures of the Provincial Governments from 1914 to 1921. In 1915, the last year of the Conservative Government, the Premier said the total revenue of this Motorists who have difficulty in keeping a straight line will have a fellow feeling for Eddie Gribbon, who drives his motorcycle and adores along Main Street in "The Crossroads of New York." Mack Sennett's six reel feature which is the current attraction at the Royal Victoria Theatre again to-day. Eddie covers every inch of ground except the sidewalk and he skips that simply because his machine can't make the grade from the curb.

The incident illustrates, in humorous fashion, the art of driving a car which sophists have been accused to sneer at as a "soft snap." In addition to finding it hard to keep to a straight line the amateur chauffeur is unable to make the cycle stop when the traffic cop gives the signal and complications ensue.

other woman, while a neighboring and gentlemanly rancher, Teddy North, falls in love with Jessica. Interesting developments follow, and there is a murder mystery which threatens to shatter the happiness of all concerned. But at the last moment justice and happiness prevail.

"The Cowboy and the Lady," which was filmed in Wyoming, comes to the Dominion Theatre all this week.

COLUMBIA

Driving half-wild male-mute dogs, with a strong strain of wolf in them, resulting from deliberate breeding for endurance in pulling heavy sleds at high speed over great distance, is no simple task even for the skilled "mushers" of Alaska. Far more difficult is it for motion picture actors, no matter how well drilled they may be in many difficult activities. Two actors in "Shame," the spectacular picture now running at the Columbia Theatre, were obliged to learn the difficult art of dog driving, besides engaging in fights with wolves.

RAFFERTY PLAYS COMEDY ROLE IN "EVERY GIRL" ROYAL

Tom McKnight's production of the newest allegorical musical comedy, "Every Girl," will be the offering at the Royal Victoria Theatre for three days, commencing Monday, Nov. 5, with Thanksgiving Day matinee.

The authors of the piece, George Gwynne Garrette and Tom McKnight have written an engaging story of young Canadian girlhood, which has been ably described as a fascinating festival of "fripperies and frivolities." The musical settings by Teddy Hieve are of the popular variety, not so jazzy, but more melodious than the songs of a year or so ago.

The action of the play is divided into two acts and sixteen scenes, each episode in its own individual setting. There are three characters which run right through the play from beginning to end. They are Everygirl, the Only Boy and Nobody. The other characters appearing in but one scene only. The cast calls for a large company of principals of marked versatility, who can portray from a half dozen to a dozen different roles in the course of two hours. Each of the sixteen episodes is punctuated with a snappy chorus number and there are a dozen solos, duets, trios and quartets, besides making the play a veritable festival of music and swiftly moving scenes.

MATINEE TO-DAY

There will be a children's matinee at the Columbia Theatre to-morrow afternoon between 1 and 5 o'clock. A splendid collection of comedy has been arranged for the children, including fables, "The Farmer and His Cat," which is extremely funny, and Bebe Daniels and Shub Polard in the "Stone Age," which will more than delight the youngsters. Also the dog teams in the "feature," which was taken in Alaska, and not forgetting Mutt and Jeff, which the children all love.

SCREEN ACTRESS DEFENDS HOLLYWOOD

A defence of Hollywood, California, from the unsavory reputation which recent events appear to thrust upon it is voiced by Mrs. W. A. Pegg, who is a well-known universal star under her stage name. Mrs. Pegg has not been on the screen this year, as she has been travelling considerably with her husband, but she expects shortly to return to pictures. Mr. Pegg is now in Victoria in connection with ship repair work at Esquimalt.

In a talk with The Times last evening Mrs. Pegg says that the Arbuskio trial and the murder of Taylor gained for Hollywood a notoriety which it did not deserve. She denies the imputation that the theatrical people of Hollywood are worse than any other section of the United States, and declares they are just as loyal, industrious, and zealous for their art as any other profession.

She will remain in Victoria for a few days.

"TO HAVE AND TO HOLD" WILL BE CAPITOL FEATURE

Chalk up another white mark to the credit of cinema realism. A shudder shook the hull of the Japanese liner "Ginjo Maru" and heads of desperation stood out on the fore-rigging of the mizzzen top gallant what-you-may-call-it. Captain Yamamatsu is said to have displayed distinct signs of worry.

The perturbation was still rampant when an hour later, the pilot boarded the "Ginjo Maru" to guide her into Los Angeles Harbor. Then the oriental skipper was informed that the sinister, black-hulled galleon which had crossed his bows flying the "Jolly Roger" was merely a cinema prop. Formerly the three-masted South Sea trading schooner, "William G. Irwin" she had been converted into a craft of the old Spanish Main for use in filming "To Have and To Hold," a George Fitzmaurice Paramount Picture featuring Betty Compson and Bert Lytell which will be the feature at the Capitol Theatre next week.

Macao, China, is the principal scene shown in the wanderings of Reuben, played by Harrison Ford, who meets there Happy Jack, portrayed by T. Roy Barnes. The great casino or gambling palace, constructed for the purpose, was peopled with many characters and among those were:

35 Chinamen, 44 Chinese women and three babies; 40 white men and women; 10 Portuguese men; 10 Hawaiians; 4 dancers, 2 Siamese women and 15 sailors, British army officers, sea captains and waiters.

As the story is now told, Reuben, after his escape from prison in Ganzy, lands in China. Down and out he finds there the tramp who helped him make his escape and who is winning at the gaming tables. He stakes Reuben to return to America and himself later turns up at the old homestead to find Reuben exonerated and everyone happy. Happy Jack as a tag line declares that it is funny how they all come back to the old homestead.

FORM I.O.D.E. JUNIOR CHAPTER AT SCHOOL

Interesting Ceremony at Monterey School Wednesday by Mrs. Hasell

On Wednesday a very interesting little ceremony took place in the formation of a junior chapter of the I.O.D.E. at the Monterey School, Oak Bay. It is hoped that this may be the first of a series of such chapters formed in connection with the various schools of the city and districts, in many of which the primary chapters of the I.O.D.E. have already shown great interest and have made presentations of flags and patriotic pictures for some years past.

Present at the organization were, Mrs. Hasell, organizing secretary, and Miss A. B. Cooke, educational secretary of the Municipal Chapter; Mrs. L. B. Kent, regent of the Monterey Chapter (the Monterey School being the school "adopted" by this chapter), and Mrs. Frank Wollaston, chapter officer.

The officers of the organization were: Regent, Alice V. Wollaston; first vice-regent, Florence Whitney; second vice-regent, Nellie Young; secretary, Nancy Johnson; treasurer, Elmer Johnson; standard bearer, Kathleen Brown; and Echoes, Phyllis Bickley, Mary Sutherland and Mabel Routledge completed the ten necessary signatures for a charter application. In all, twenty-one children signed the roll.

The name chosen for the chapter was "H. M. S. Resolution," and the motto is "All Service Ranks the Same With God."

Mrs. Hasell's Address

In addressing the children Mrs. Hasell explained the aims and objects of the order and the special need there was nowadays to gather the children while they were still in the morning light, and help both parents and teachers by instilling them early in the wider interests of their nation and of their citizenship. Mrs. Hasell congratulated the children upon the choice of the name "Resolution," and gave a short sketch of the career of the celebrated captain who first bore the name in 1772. Captain James Cook's history should be an incentive to all young people, for he gained success by quiet and steady service and by obedience to duty.

Mrs. L. B. Kent said a few gracious words of encouragement to the children and promised the continued interest and friendship of the Gonzales Chapter. Miss Cooke also told the children something of the possibilities for the service and presented three badges and a year's subscription to Echoes for the chapter.

The prayer was said, the standard raised and the oath of allegiance taken by all standing. The date fixed for the regular meetings of the chapter is the first Wednesday in each month. Meanwhile, plans will be discussed and some work put in hand for the individual members with a view to holding an entertainment to inaugurate funds.

The meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

LUX

Is recommended by leading maker of Children's Woollens

The finest woollens can be laundered repeatedly the gentle Lux way. One of the most widely known makers of infants and children's knitted garments, says:—

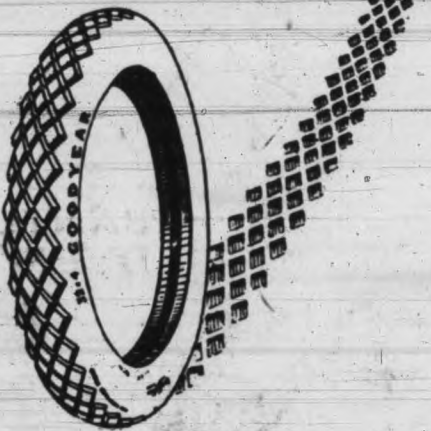

"Lux is ideal for woollens. It is so pure that it cannot injure the sensitive wool fibre."

Wash your woollens the gentle Lux way. Just press the rich suds through the garment again and again, and in a moment it is clean, it is new, and as soft and fluffy as the day you first saw and loved it. The thin, satiny-like flakes of Lux which are made by our own exclusive process—dissolve quickly in hot water.

How Writing Was Invented

Problems in History

Do you know—

How the practice of writing grew out of the early life of man?

Do you know—

What monumental service to the civilized world was performed by the wandering singing bands of ancient days?

Do you know—

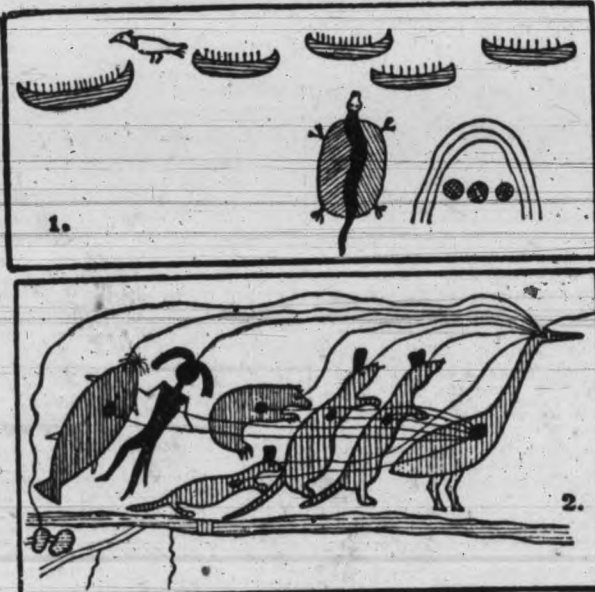

How man's innate desire to make a suit and mystery of his individual knowledge for the mystification of other men impeded the world's progress for centuries?

Do you know—

How short a while ago knowledge ceased to be the jealously guarded privilege of the favored minority?

Answers to to-morrow's instalment of H. G. Wells' "Outline of History."

domestic economy of China the pig was as important as it used to be in Ireland. But, as we have already noted earlier, the Chinese language consists of a comparatively few elementary monosyllabic sounds, which are all used in a great variety of meanings, and the Chinese soon discovered that a number of these pictographs and ideograms could be used also to express other ideas, not

Specimens of American Indian picture-writing (after Schoolcraft.)

No. 1 painted on a rock on the shore of Lake Superior, records an expedition across the lake, in which five canoes took part. The upright strokes in each indicate the number of the crew, and the bird represents a chief. "The Kingfisher." The three circles (suns) under the arch of heaven indicate that the voyage lasted three days, and the tortoise, a symbol of land, denotes a safe arrival.

No. 2 is a petition sent to the United States Congress by a group of Indian tribes, asking for fishing rights in certain small lakes. The tribes are represented by their totems, martens, bear, manfish and catfish, led by the crane. Lines running from the heart and eye of each animal to the heart and eye of the crane denote that they are all of one mind; and a line from the eye of the crane to the lakes, shown in the crude little "map" in the lower left-hand corner.

so conveniently pictured, but having the same sound. Characters so used are called phonograms. For example, the sound "fang" meant not only "boat," but "a place," "spinning," "fragrant," "inquire," and several other meanings according to the context. But while a boat is easy to draw, most of the other meanings are undrawable. How can one draw "fragrant" or "inquire"? The Chinese, therefore, took the same sign for all their meanings of "fang," but added to each of them another distinctive sign, the determinative, to show what sort of fang was intended. A "place" was indicated by the same sign as for "boat" (fang) and the determinative sign for "earth"; "spinning" by the sign for fang and the sign for "spinning"; "fragrant" by the sign for fang and the sign for "fragrant"; and the sign for "inquire" by the sign for fang and the sign for "inquire".

One may perhaps make this development of pictographs, ideograms, and phonograms a little clearer by taking an analogous case in English.

How to Make a "Phonogram." Suppose we were making up a sort of picture-writing in English, then it would be very natural to use a square with a slanting line to suggest a lid, for the word and thing box. That would be a pictograph. But now suppose we had a round sign for money, and suppose we put this sign inside the box sign, that would do for "cash-box" or "treasury." That would be an ideogram. But the word "box" is used for other things than boxes. There is the box shrub which gives us boxwood. It would be hard to draw a recognizable box-tree distinct from other trees, but it is quite easy to put our sign "box," and add our sign for shrub as a determinative to determine that it is that sort of box and not a common box that we want to express. And then there is "box," the verb, meaning to fight with fists. A box at a fight needs a determinative; we might add the two crossed swords, a sign which is used very often upon maps to denote a battle. A box at a fight are needs yet another determinative, and so we go on, through a long series of phonograms.

Now it is manifest that here in the Chinese writing is a very peculiar and complex system of sign-writing. A very great number of characters have to be learned by the mind habituated to their use.

The power it possesses to carry ideas and discussion is still unguaged by western standards, but we may doubt whether with this instrument it will ever be possible to establish such a wide, common mentality as the simpler and swifter alphabets of the western civilizations permit.

In China it created a special reading-class, the mandarins, who were also the ruling and official class. Their necessary concentration upon words and classical forms, rather than upon ideas and realities, seems, in spite of her comparative peacefulness and the very high individual intellectual quality of her people, to have greatly hampered the social and economic development of China. Probably it is the complexity of her speech and writing, more than any other imaginable cause, that has made China to-day politically, socially, and individually a vast pool of backward people rather than the foremost power in the whole world.

But while the Chinese mind thus made for itself an instrument which is probably too elaborate in structure, too laborious in use, and too inflexible in its form to meet the modern need for simple, swift, exact, and lucid communications, the growing civilizations of the west were working out the problem of a written record upon rather different and, on the whole, more advantageous lines. They did not seek to improve their script to make it swift and easy, but circumstances conspired to make it so.

A Wedge-Shaped Language.

The Sumerian picture-writing, which had to be done upon clay and with little styles, which made curved marks with difficulty and inaccurately, rapidly degenerated by a conventionalized dabbled down of wedge-shaped marks (cuneiform—wedge-shaped) into almost unrecognizable hints of the shapes intended. Late reports from the Royal Provincial Jubilee Hospital to-day in connection with the three accident victims injured in the Quadra Street mishap on Tuesday night, state that the condition of Miss Thelma Miller and Clarence Burr is slightly improved, but that Miss Laura Cummings has shown no change. All three are suffering from fractured skulls.

A huge reproduction of the "Underwood" portable typewriter will be one of the features of the musical revue "Everyday" at the Royal Victoria theatre November 6, 7 and 8. This machine dominates the stage. Dainty chorus girls are concealed in the machine, and later the human mechanism of the machine hops out and down the key tops on the stage.

The sale of work to be held by members of Royal Review W. B. A., at Harmony Hall, 724 Fort Street, on Saturday afternoon, will be opened by Mrs. Lillian P. Hodgson, Provincial Commander, at 2 p. m. Among those who sang or recited were Mrs. C. MacKie, Mrs. Berwick, Mrs. Mullins, Mrs. R. Williams, Miss Isabelle Mildenhall, Miss Effie Lindsay and Mr. Dawson. The total proceeds were $64.25. A woolen comforter which was donated to the guild by Mrs. Miles and Mrs. Rapier was offered for sale and sold for $16.

It included an auction sale of miscellaneous articles. Bro Collins, Worthy Master of Premier L. O. L. 1610, was called upon to act as auctioneer. A musical programme followed, and among the artists were Mrs. Ogilvie, who sang in her usual pleasing manner; Miss Campbell and Mr. Foster, a duet; Mr. Obee, a comic song; and Mr. N. P. McDonald playing the bagpipes. Refreshments were served and dancing, which was kept up till midnight. Among those present were Bro. Lane, P. M. of 1425, Bro. Stephenson, P. M. of Sir Ed Carson; W. M. At a meeting of the Ladies Guild for Sailors, held in the Connaught Seamen's Institute yesterday, with Mrs. Thomson in the chair, reports were given of relief cases. In one case, that of a sailor's widow, the Guild is paying her rent pending the receipt of her pension; in another a ton of coal was sent to a sailor's family in need. Warm thanks were expressed to the Campbell Patriotic Club for a generous gift of dressed dolls for inclusion in the Christmas boxes for the sailors, and to the Sisters' Rush for magazines. At the Sailors Club at Esquimalt last month 167 beds were rented, 192 sailors registered and 20 letters were attended to, in addition to two relief cases being assisted. The annual birthday tea of the Connaught Seamen's Institute will be held on Wednesday afternoon, November 22. At the meeting yesterday a standing vote of sympathy was passed to Mr. R. VICTORIANS GREET NAVAL OFFICERS HERE

Canadian Club Entertains Officers of Capetown and Patrician

Canada Should Help to Pay Naval Costs, President Dr. Clay Declares

Officers of H. M. S. Capetown and the Canadian cruiser Patrician were welcomed to Victoria to-day, at a Canadian Club luncheon in the Empress Hotel.

"Victoria has a peculiar claim upon the Navy, owing to the long association of Esquimalt with naval affairs," Rev. Dr. Leslie Clay, President of the Club, remarked in welcoming the officers. "In fact, we want the naval men who are here now to realize that they are in home port."

"The reduction of armaments is regarded with satisfaction not only by taxpayers, but also by those who make a greater sacrifice for the Army and Navy than can be measured in terms of finance," Dr. Clay went on. "But we cannot think that Great Britain at least can afford to dismantle her Navy. Whether the ratio of naval strength which she accepted at Washington is sufficient to meet the requirements of her far-flung Empire is not for me to say, but we have proud evidence of the fact that Britain, having given her word, is willing to accept the word of the nations with whom she entered into treaties. And we hope that the day is long distant when it will be necessary to test the naval strength."

Dr. Clay said he hoped that Canadian statesmanship, from one side of the House of Commons or the other, would evolve a plan whereby Canada would be able to pay some reasonable share of the cost of defending her own coast line.

Captain Edward R. Jones, Commander of the Capetown, thanked the Club for the reception of his officers here. He recalled the long association of Esquimalt with the Navy, and remarked that as a result of this association, many Canadian laddies had "joined the Navy."

Captain Jones expressed sympathy for officers and men of the Navy who were being released as a result of the reduction of armaments. He said that the part taken by the Navy in preventing serious trouble in the Near East recently had proved that it was not an effete organization as some people appeared to believe.

Lieutenant-Commander Charles T. Beard, formerly Commander of the Canadian cruiser Patrician, and now Naval-Commander of the dockyard here, explained that it would be the duty of the Patrician in future to train boys for the Navy. He asked the sympathetic co-operation of the public generally in the important work that was to be undertaken.

COUNCIL MAY PUT PLEBISCITE FOR AMUSEMENT PLAN

Aldermen and Business Men Hear Details of Scheme

Whether or not an amusement centre should be constructed and maintained on the Stadium site with capital furnished by private persons or whether the matter should be handled by civic authorities, was the important subject discussed at to-day's luncheon at Spencer's by the Chamber of Commerce, members of the City Council, and the Publicity Bureau.

The scheme will cost about $300,000, and the details have already been published fully in The Times. The Council members were invited to attend the meeting for the purpose of considering the submission of a plebiscite on the question. If the plan should be carried out by private enterprise concessions in the way of tax and water exemption will be asked.

However, it was pointed out by C. T. Cross, who outlined the scheme to the meeting that on a conservative estimate the city would derive a very good income from the amusement centre.

If the city should handle the scheme it would be financed through 25-year bonds, which, after five years would be paid off the same as any other bonds.

The proposal which was laid before the audience to-day is as follows:

(1) Are you in favor of giving the Stadium site to a private company for a period of sixty (60) years, free of taxation for twenty (20) years, and with free water for ten (10) years.

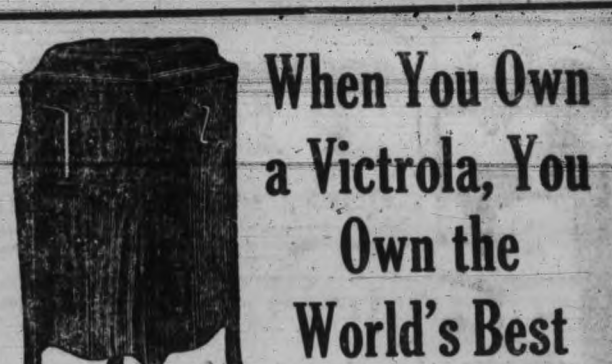

(2) Are you in favor of the City constructing and operating the amusement centre when the time is opportune?

The aldermen present were: Reginald Hayward, D. Leeming, Joseph Patrick, Robert Dewar, John Harvey, E. B. Andrews, E. S. Woodward and R. W. Perry.

Alderman Leeming said he did not think that the people would agree to the undertaking as a public enterprise.

Alderman Woodward agreed that the city's finances were not in a position to make it desirable that the scheme should be undertaken by the city. Neither was he willing to concede that private enterprise should be granted tax exemption. "Though agreeing to the gift of the site, there is no antagonism to the scheme, but the details must be carefully considered," he said.

Alfred Carmichael strongly urged that the matter should be submitted to the electorate.

Alderman Hayward asked if other sites had been considered, and Mr. Cross replied that the Stadium site was considered the very best in every way.

The matter will be introduced for discussion at the next meeting of the Council.

J. C. Penderay, president of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, said that there was no question that something would have to be provided in the way of attractions to keep tourists here. He considered that if the scheme were put before private enterprise as a business proposition it would go through.

Favors Submission.

Alderman Dewar agreed that the scheme was a good one and should be submitted to the public as outlined by the Chamber of Commerce committee.

Alderman Patrick said he approved of anything that would keep the people here. He thought if any company undertaking the scheme were making money out of it, there was no reason why they should not pay taxes. He disapproved of the city undertaking the plan.

On the suggestion of Alderman Leeming a meeting between the chamber committee and the Council will be held to go over the details of the suggested plebiscite.

Alderman Andrews considered that a business proposition should appeal to the public.

The joint meeting will be held in the Council Chamber at 2 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon.

HALLOWEEN DANCE.

A very pleasant Halloween dance was held at the "Aberdeen" on Tuesday, when Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Anderson entertained the guests of the house and friends to the number of fifty. The reception rooms and hall were beautifully decorated in orange and black and a standard lamp was converted into an enormous pumpkin. In the private sitting room which was turned into a witch's den, Mrs. Muriel, who was disguised as a witch, told wonderful fortunes to her many patrons. Mrs. Whittaker and Miss Seon were responsible for the beautiful color scheme and decorated compliments. Supper was served at 11 o'clock and the party broke up at 1.30 to the strains of Auld Lang Syne. This is the first of a series of little dances which it is hoped will be held at the "Aberdeen" during the coming winter months.

Rev. T. M. Minard, of Portland, Ore., who has been speaking for Dr. Butler, at the New Thought Temple this week, left for his home on Thursday's boat. He is to return at a later date.

BOWSER AFTER MANSON; PUT "FAMILY LIFE" IN LIQUOR LAW; HE SAYS

For two hours, of the two and a half hours he spoke in the Legislature Thursday afternoon, W. J. Bowser, K.C., Leader of the Opposition, waged verbal war against the Government's administration of the Government Liquor Act. Shortly after he commenced his address he turned his attention to Attorney-General A. M. Manson, as the Minister in charge of the liquor laws, and his castigation covered practically every phase of the department's operations since the Act became effective in June, 1921, and particularly since Mr. Manson assumed office last January.

Mr. Bowser, after "tearing the liquor administration to pieces," took up the Manson-Stevens feud and reviewed the affair at considerable length.

"I wish to call the attention of the House to the entrance of a young man into the Government this year," he narrated, referring to the Attorney-General. "He came with a great flare of trumpets, clashing of cymbals and heralding of press. His first announcements included one to the effect that he was out to conduct the Government's liquor business from a moral standpoint and not to make money; which was contrary to the Premier's remarks that the people of the Province expected the Government to make a fair profit."

Does Not Admit Report.
 In substantiation of the latter statement, the Opposition leader read from a newspaper clipping which so reported the Premier. The Government leader rose to remark that of course he did not admit the correctness of the press report.

Mr. Bowser: I read it because I knew the Premier would deny it. He also quoted Mr. Manson as having said that surely the Premier had not meant revenue first when making the reported statement. Later the Attorney-General announced the "moral intentions" aspect of the situation.

"To Improve Family Life"
 "So now we have an Attorney-General, as compared with his predecessor, whose morals are above question," went on Mr. Bowser. "Well, I will say for his predecessor (Mr. Farris) he never claimed to have any morals." (Laughter.)

Mr. Bowser quoted from a copy of the Prohibition Bulletin wherein Mr. Manson was reported as having said that any man who said the Act was being administered only for money lied. The Act would be administered for the benefit of the family life of the people.

"Now, let's see," he went on. "Here is the Minister not out for revenue but his 'wicket' chief is encouraging him. I refer you to the instructions sent out for a clean-up of the liquor situation. But what of Prince Rupert? Then complaints were sent to Mayor Tisdall of Vancouver to the effect that the city must clean house or the Department would have to step in.

"I say the Attorney-General has the power in his own hands to stop the beer clubs operating. He or his predecessor licensed them."

Mr. Bowser said that former Attorney-General Farris had cancelled twenty-five club licenses; Premier Oliver, as acting Attorney-General, had cut off thirteen licenses, while the present Minister had only accounted for two. At this point he referred to Mr. Manson as "this moral Attorney-General who introduced family life into the liquor Act."

$2,000 for Beer
 The Opposition leader said that the way to stop the clubs was to cut their supply of beer. He then produced copies of photographs of cheques paid into the Government stores by one club manager in Vancouver for approximately $2,000 for beer during the month of last September.

"Then you talk about introducing morality," he jibed.

Mr. Manson: "May I see them?"

Mr. Bowser: "No, no."

Mr. Manson: "That is a sample of the citizenship of the Leader of the Opposition."

Mr. Bowser: "I am here to bring to the attention of the people the rotten administration of the liquor Act."

Out After Payroll
 He then spoke of the opening of a beer store at Campbell River and said that a dismissed official of Courtenay who had been found short in his funds had been placed in charge.

He then charged that a liquor store had been forced upon the people of Kaslo, who formerly had voted for prohibition.

The former Attorney-General would not open a store there, but my moral friend did," said Mr. Bowser. He added that a store was later established at Yahl, a payroll town, which was what the Attorney-General was after. Yahl was known as "Bitter-piggers' Hollow," so it was no wonder the Government wanted to get in on the business," he remarked.

Catching Thirsty Tourists
 Mr. Bowser then said a beer store had been opened at South Westminister, with Joe Wise as vendor, and the premises were the old Wise Hotel.

Premier Oliver interrupted to say that Joe Wise had long been dead. Mr. Bowser replied that the vendor was named "Wise" and that the store was located in the hotel building of that name—so why the humor?

"The Premier was afraid the thirsty tourist might get into New Westminster and spend some money in stores of other kinds and you ought to see the 'dead soldiers' along the road," he added.

Getting Them at Sidney
 The Opposition leader then referred to the opening of a store at Powell River the first store ever seen in that town, and said that a new store was to be placed in Ocean Falls. He joked about the second Victoria store as being conveniently located in the Belmont Block, close to the Union Club and Empress Hotel. That was convenient, he smiled, and he suggested running a tunnel from the store to both the Union Club and Empress Hotel so that the revenue might be increased.

The next location mentioned was Sidney, where Mr. Bowser said a store had been placed to catch the tourists traveling on the ferry from Anacortes. The store was "conveniently located on the wharf." He suggested that since the C.P.R. were installing another ferry to operate from Bellingham a store might be opened on that vessel and then no one would be missed.

A store had recently been opened at Coalmont, said Mr. Bowser. At that place the men came down the mines in buckets and the store was right where they got off.

Started the "Manson Mickey"
 He next spoke of the Premier recommending "Made in B.C. Whisky," distilled at New Westminster. An Order-in-Council was passed on May 15 providing for the sale of "hip mickiey." An order was passed for the sale of the sixteen-pence bottle, the "Manson Mickey."

"Then a man could easily slip one of these mickies into his hip pocket and escape detection, or one in each pocket, and the price was reasonable. The whisky was only two years old, but that did not make any difference, and you can get it at Manson's store for $2."

"So I say the Attorney-General has been retrograding the morals of the country instead of raising them," he charged.

Mr. Bowser then spoke of an advertisement of this B.C. whisky, and the reading matter extolled the virtues of the brand. It was good for coughs and colds and numerous ailments, including insomnia.

"That is what the Premier recommended; he should take some of his own medicine, as he suffers from insomnia," advised the speaker.

"That would not elevate my family life," chortled Mr. Oliver.

Keeping Stores Open Longer.
 Mr. Bowser then spoke of the Crown being above the laws of the country, since the liquor stores were kept open on Wednesday and all others were closed. Was this not defaming the laws of the land? Instead of young men spending their Wednesday afternoons at picnics they were influenced to buy liquor, he said.

"And recently at Kamloops one of the commissioners, J. H. Falconer, is reported in a newspaper interview to have said that in order to stop bootlegging it might be necessary to keep the stores open until ten o'clock," he continued. "The bootlegger works in the dead of night; that is the excuse."

The Opposition leader made fun of the reported suggestion of the Premier while en route to the Nelson convention that good cider might be made from surplus Okanagan apples.

To Introduce New Brandy.

"Then I understand he conferred with his son regarding manufacturing brandy from peaches. First of all a prohibition Premier, a contributor to prohibition funds, recommending the use of B. C. whisky; then the manufacture of cider and peach brandy!" he humorously exclaimed.

"I would suggest to the Attorney-General that he label the brandy 'Honest John' and make it a good seller," he added, and laughter followed.

Mr. Bowser then criticized the permission granted for the transfer of a bonded liquor warehouse from Creston to Greenwood. That was done because Greenwood was closer in touch with American consumers, he said. Mr. Manson and Mr.

Farris interjected that the transfer could not have been prevented legally.

"Dog-Kennel" Language.

Taking up the Manson-Stevens verbal dispute, the Leader of the Opposition said that the Attorney-General's characterization of Mr. Stevens as "a yellow, yellow cur" and a "scavenger" was language conducive to a breach of the peace and would encourage partisanship to run wild. It was the language of the dog-kennel, he asserted, and he recalled an instance when the Attorney-General, as member for Omineca, had "barked" at the Opposition Leader across the floor of the House.

"The honorable gentleman misunderstood me at that time, and I am sorry he did; I thought that was forgotten," returned Mr. Manson.

My bearing is good and abuse of a vulgar kind is no excuse," was Mr. Bowser's reply. He asserted that Mr. Stevens had been a minister of the Federal House and was a reputable and responsible citizen. He knew what he was talking about when he made his charges.

The Prince Rupert Fuss.
 Mr. Bowser referred to Mr. Manson's statement that Prince Rupert and the ridings of Omineca and Fort George were clean.

Mr. Manson: I did not say that Prince Rupert was clean, but I said that the latest reports showed Omineca and Fort George to be clean. I was dissatisfied with conditions in Prince Rupert.

Mr. Bowser: Then why have you forgotten? (Concluded on page 15.)

BOWSER AFTER MANSON;
PUT "FAMILY LIFE" IN LIQUOR LAW, HE SAYS

waited until the Stevens' charges were made on October 1 before commencing a clean-up?

Mr. Manson: For the same reason that we waited in other parts of the province where prosecutions are pending; when we can get around to them.

Mr. Bowser: Prosecutions could be launched in Penticton, Delta, Fernie and elsewhere, so why not in his home town of Prince Rupert where conditions should be best known?

Bootlegging Chief Industry.

The Opposition Leader said there were 250 bootleggers in Prince Rupert; bootlegging was one of the town's chief industries, and no man who arrived there with money was permitted to get away. He remarked that the Attorney-General was not cancelling any licenses in Prince Rupert, nor cutting off the beer supply.

Reference was made to the purchase of beer by the F. G. Dawson Company, of Prince Rupert. Mr. Bowser said that Mr. Dawson's firm had received shipments of 1,500 barrels of beer from June 21 to March 22 and that the Government had purchased 765 barrels of this. So over 1,000 barrels were missing.

The Attorney-General explained that breweries were allowed to sell to agents and sub-agents and if Mr. Bowser would check up carefully he would find that there was no beer missing. The agents had the right to export.

Mr. Bowser: The only place to export to was Alaska.

Mr. Manson: Or sell to a sub-agent.

Mr. Bowser: Mr. Dawson had sub-agents at different places and only for one purpose, and that was to sell beer, which was contrary to law.

Morning After Feeling.

He spoke of the statement that he had been given a report on this matter by a civil servant and passed it on to Mr. Stevens. The Attorney-General replied that there was no report of any offence by Mr. Dawson.

Mr. Bowser said he understood there was, and asked why he should have been brought into the discussion.

He referred to Mr. Manson's speech before the Liberal Association in Victoria and then "feeling ashamed of it in the morning when he saw it in cold print."

"Then the following evening he went to Esquimalt to speak," continued Mr. Bowser, "and suggested that politics should be taken out of the gutter. At the same meeting he spoke of a coat of tar and feathers awaiting Mr. Stevens in Omicame. Imagine the Attorney-General of this Province suggesting to his bootlegger friends in Omicame that they tar and feather Mr. Stevens!"

$1,600 For Three Chairs.

He digressed a moment to speak of law enforcement and courtesies, saying that the late Government had been roundly criticized for constructing courthouses all over the country.

"Yes, we constructed courthouses, but how about the $400,000 one in Prince Rupert, with its three chairs costing $1,600? And the building, while nearing completion, is being heated up while marble is being brought from Italy," he added.

Rupert Warned of Clean-Up.

Mr. Bowser claimed that The Daily News of Prince Rupert had roundly flayed the policy of the administration in a recent editorial, although that paper was the organ of the Government. Objection was voiced to the way in which a "clean-up" of the town was started shortly after the Stevens' charges were made.

The speaker read from a clipping taken from the Prince Rupert paper, which warned that stool pigeons were on their way and that even the red-light districts would be closed.

Hon. Mr. Manson objected that the report was a mistaken one, and appeared to be the fabrication of some tertium quid.

"Consorting With Bootleggers."

Mr. Bowser then referred to the reception given the new Attorney-General in his home town, when a brass band was on hand when the boat arrived. The affair was arranged by two prominent citizens. One was Jack (William) Miller, whom Mr. Bowser said served six months for vagrancy in Nelson and later five years for robbing a Hindu. Ben Self, another well-known character, was named. Two of the three delegates from Prince Rupert to the Nelson convention were well-known bootleggers.

Old Benner was one whom the Opposition Leader named.

"That is the type of men the Premier was consorting with, and the members at the Nelson convention," he jibed.

This roused the Premier's ire, and he protested vigorously that Mr. Bowser had no right to try and leave the impression that the Liberals held anything but a dignified gathering at Nelson.

Mr. Manson referred to the Prince Rupert reception, which was a surprise, he said, and of which he was very proud. Mayor Rochester and many prominent citizens participated.

A-G's Legal Firm.

Mr. Bowser next took up what he claimed was a most serious matter, the Stevens' charge that Mr. Manson was a member of a legal firm handling criminal work. As Attorney-General, Mr. Manson was prosecuting criminals, while his partner or partners were defending.

The Attorney-General denied this emphatically, again offered to open the books of the firm and declared that his firm had not handled criminal or quasi-criminal cases excepting in two instances shortly after his appointment, and these were handled under unusual conditions.

He asserted that not one dollar went into his pocket, or would, in this connection. He said that a separate firm had been incorporated.

Mr. Bowser: A firm within a firm, Hon. Mr. Manson: No, a firm without a firm.

Mr. Bowser: I don't care where the profits go, the offices used are the same.

Invalid Pardoned.

He spoke of a case where the Attorney-General's department was prosecuting an offender and a member of the legal firm was defending.

The man was convicted and sentenced. Later a pardon was granted.

The minister explained that there were extenuating circumstances. The citizens had asked for clemency, two justices of the peace likewise and the constable had declared that the man was in such ill-health that he could not stand a prison sentence.

Further, the wife of the convicted man had lost her eyesight.

Mr. Bowser spoke of a man on Queen Charlotte Islands being prosecuted for murder by the Crown, while one of Mr. Manson's firm dealt with the case.

He then said the beer clubs were still running in Prince Rupert and that while the Attorney-General might change the firm name business came through the underworld. And what influences the underworld? he asked.

Proctor Case Up.

The Opposition Leader then spoke of an official of the railway department, A. F. Proctor, chief engineer, who was arrested and prosecuted recently for operating a motor-car in Victoria while intoxicated.

The Premier rose hastily to say that it was against the rules of the House to discuss a case which was still pending. He said within an hour after he learned of the accident in which Mr. Proctor figured he had been suspended and since then his resignation had been received.

Mr. Bowser continued that, for some time the official had been indulging in strong drink and at times he had not been capable of attending to his duties, especially when in a position where immense sums of money were being spent.

He suggested that Mr. Proctor had been "incapacitated" during the P. G. E. excursion to Queen's two years ago.

This the Premier denied emphatically, and Mr. Bowser retorted that he congratulated the Premier on not seeing what was reported to have taken place on that trip.

The Opposition Leader declared that the people wanted good, sober administration and it was for the opposition to assist in seeing that this was provided.

Private Members Stilled.

Earlier in his address he referred to the frequent caucuses held by the Liberal party and claimed that the Premier had been dictatorial to repeat by the caucus, until he had even lost his prerogative as leader.

Already this session, he added, the party whip was cracking so effectively that private members were being stifled and prevented from speaking upon the needs of their constituencies.

He said that at Nelson the Premier promised that patronage would be re-established and added that he did not know when it had been abolished.

"But let the mad dance go on; your time is short," he warned.

$48,000 McGeer Payment.

Then he added that for the first time in the history of party Government Vancouver was without cabinet representation and for over a year that great city had been without its full six members. It was being robbed for political advantage, which he called a cowardly, unconstitutional action.

He spoke of the $48,000 which had been collected by G. G. McGeer, K.C., as fees and expenses for carrying on the freight rates fight at Ottawa, and wondered what the net results were to the people.

He claimed that the Premier and Mr. McGeer were not entitled to the credit for what British Columbia did receive. On the other hand, Premier King was confronted with a peculiar situation and the farmers' votes did the trick.

"I hope it won't take another $48,000 to go into the coffers of Vancouver friends before the matter is disposed of," remarked the Opposition Leader.

He twitted the Finance Minister over the mention in the King's Speech of the stabilization of exchange, to the great advantage of B. C., and said that surely Mr. Hart would never in his wildest dreams think that he would be disposed of the stabilization of exchange in Wall Street.

"History" to Timber Survey.

Mr. Bowser said it would not be long before the minister would be trying to borrow from five to ten million dollars more, and it was necessary to get the Government members into good humor.

The speaker wondered why mention had been made in the King's speech of the proposed survey of crown timber lands. He suggested that there was a history to this which the minister might well have kept in the dark.

Speaking of the P. G. E., he remarked that conditions were getting worse and worse, but the Government had decided to "muddle through," and he felt that all they could do was to keep on muddling.

He spoke lightly of the Premier's retirement as Minister of Railways and of the secret way in which Hon. Dr. MacLean had been sworn in. The latter was true to the place of his birth and as Minister of Education had surrounded himself with employees from Prince Edward Island.

That Minister's knowledge of railways, said Mr. Bowser, was largely confined to the narrow-gauge one on Prince Edward Island. Probably Hon. Dr. MacLean would go down in history as the narrow-gauge Minister of Railways.

Premier Oliver quit to allow himself more time for other affairs," said Mr. Bowser, "but what more important business is there in the province than the administration of the P. G. E., on which he has already spent $20,000,000? What a humiliation after his great railway ambitions!"

Apple Exhibit Better.

Mr. Bowser scoffed at the suggestion that the estimates would be cut. It would be the same as last year, when $100,000 was cut off after the caucus so decreed, but later a supplementary estimate was brought in for a million dollars.

Speaking of the university, he said that in 1920 Mr. Farris had announced that the Government would proceed with the erection of the buildings at Point Grey and $100,000 was actually spent on clearing land. The Government had been asleep ever since.

Mr. Bowser delved into the finances of the Province and held that the Government was borrowing wildly. He said that per capita borrowings in Quebec last year were $8.39, while in British Columbia they amounted to $29.98.

"Waken up and see if we cannot have some reformation in this country," he admonished.

He referred to Hon. Mr. Patullo's visits to Europe and asked if it would not have been better to send a carload of good B. C. apples over there as an advertisement rather than the Minister of Lands. He thought more good would have come if this had been done.

CANADIAN BOOK
WEEK APPEALWhy Public Is Asked to Back
Literary Effort of Own People

The Canadian Book Week effort was the theme of John Ridington, librarian of the University of B. C. to the New Westminster Kiwanis Club at its last luncheon.

This week, Mr. Ridington said, had been inaugurated last year with the object of directing attention of Canadians to their own literature, to encourage the purchase and perusal of worth-while books by Canadian authors, and to develop national consciousness by the wider dissemination of the various aspects of Canadian life—its past history, present accomplishment and future hope. It was a movement, he said, to induce Canadians to include a larger percentage of Canadian books among the books they actually read. Perhaps even to increase the total amount of their reading. This percentage was much lower than it should be, having due regard to the merits of the Canadian article and the need of Canadians for a broader, clearer knowledge of their own country. The number of Canadian books in circulation was hard to obtain, but it was estimated that librarians had in circulation and book-sellers carried in their business only one per cent, or less of Canadian books.

The Reason.

The reason why there were so few Canadian books on the market and in circulation was that the publicity mechanism of English and American publishers was as effective in Canada as in their own countries. Then the reviews drew the attention of readers to such literature. He did not desire, he said, to see Canadian reading matter consist entirely of Canadian writing, a nation of parochial minds, but one per cent, was absurd, and obviously unfair to authors, publishers and the reading public. There was no reason to suppose increased Canadian reading would be less discriminating in selection than that now applied to American, English, Scotch or Irish reading. The Canadian reader should be better qualified to judge of the merits of a Canadian than of an American or British author. In fact, the more definitely

Canadian a book was, in thought, in spirit and subject matter, the more likely was the Canadian public to form a correct judgment on it.

A ploughman who knew very little of the game of football recently witnessed a match in the North. It was a close game, and the efforts for supremacy were so great on both sides that charging and rough play were freely indulged in. The rustic thoroughly enjoyed it, and once, when the ball was kicked over some neighboring houses, in- volving a little delay, he got impatient, and shouted excitedly: "Never mind the ball, get on with the game!"

JITNEY PETITION NEARING COMPLETION

A petition to the Saanich Council complaining of the conditions said to have been created by the recent enactment of the Motor Vehicle Regulation By-law, organized by Ward 2 ratepayers, and residents of Saanich affected by the Lake Hill traffic route is gathering many signatures. The petition has already nearly 350 signatures. Copies of the petition are filed by its organizers with the Campbell Drug Store; Mr. Lowe, Lake Hill, and Mrs. Palmer, Cloverdale. The petition is to be presented to the Saanich Council in session shortly, strongly backed up by personal representations. The petition deals with the difficulty, particularly the Lake Hill route, and urges that discrimination has been brought into effect, wittingly or unwittingly by the passage of the by-law limiting licenses for these services. The petition asks the revision of the by-law with certain changes.

BRIDGE WORK COST LESS THAN LOWEST TENDER RECEIVED

Estimates Exceeded, But Day Labor Policy Saves Money

While the cost of the new Johnson Street Bridge will far exceed the original estimate, the day labor done on it by the city will cost less than the lowest tender filed by private contracting companies. It was made known at the City Hall to-day.

Figures prepared by City Engineer P. M. Preston prove that the city did not lose but actually saved money by doing certain portions of the bridge work by day labor. This work, of course, was more expensive than had been anticipated and for that reason it was necessary to raise $110,000 in excess of the original by-law vote last Spring. It will be necessary to raise another $40,000 anyway to complete the project. But even with these unexpected expenditures the expense of day labor done on the bridge under Mr. Preston's direction was less than the lowest tender received when Mr. Preston's estimate was filed.

This is one of the facts which Mr. Preston explained this week to businessmen who have been criticizing his work on the bridge project.

URGES LARGE SITE FOR MOTOR CAMP

Watson Tells Mayor Gorge Land Too Small; Proposes Craigflower Property

Reeve Watson of Saanich conferred with Mayor William Marchant at the City Hall Thursday to state to him that the Gorge Park land in Saanich on which it is planned to establish an automobile camp next year is too small for the purpose. The automobile camp plan is so important and the tourist business will become so great here that we should make sure that we get an adequate site for the camp, the Reeve declared. "I believe that motor travel to this island will increase to such an extent in a few years that the land in the Gorge Park will be altogether too small to accommodate the cars that will stop here. In my opinion a larger site, capable of taking care of practically any number of cars, should be selected." The Reeve discussed with the Mayor the possibility of establishing the motor camp on a large site near the Craigflower bridge.

PRESENTS PRIZE FOR POTATO FAIR

Farmers' Institute Advisory Board Takes Interest; Success Assured

The Advisory Board of the British Columbia Farmers' Institutes has donated a fine silver cup as one of the prizes at the annual Provincial Potato Fair to be held at Grand Forks November 27 to December 2, and the district winning the cup three years in succession will keep it permanently. C. Tice, the Provincial Government's potato expert, who tried hard to have the potato fair held in Victoria, was greatly pleased with the cup and heartily thanked the Advisory Board for the donation.

Two other cups have been presented for competition, one by B. A. Vantreigh of Saanich, and one by the Grand Forks branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. There are large numbers of special prizes and the people of Grand Forks have a lot of trouble to make the affair a big success. The farmer institutes and the potato growers are co-operating in every way possible. The fair will be held under the direction of the Provincial Department of Agriculture in co-operation with the potato growers and farmer institutes. As the province is well adapted to the growing of large crops of high-quality potatoes, a more general use of good seed, and the growing of standard varieties, and more care in grading would result in better markets. The object of the fair is to encourage the growing of potatoes on this basis. The success of the fair will depend to a large extent on the growers of the Province making use of the opportunities now offered.

The prizes will be awarded on the following points: Freedom from disease, truthness to variety type, size, uniformity, freedom from mechanical or other injury and state of maturity. There are a tremendous number of classes and prizes and it is interesting to note that a new industry, the Pacific Starch Products, Limited, which is manufacturing starch from potatoes at New Westminster, has donated three valuable prizes.

World Traveler Gives Tanlac High Praise

"Tanlac has restored me to such excellent health that I can recommend it most sincerely. It brought me complete relief after I had been in the hospital two months with neuritis, and built me up in a short time from a dreadful run-down condition."

This emphatic statement was made by Mrs. Vivian Angelo Short, highly esteemed resident of 2129 24th Ave., Calgary. Mrs. Short is a woman of exceptional education and refinement. She has traveled extensively, having been practically all over the world. She lived in London and Paris several years and has visited Smyrna, recently burned in the Turkish-Grecian conflict, and Constantinople.

"About a year ago," said Mrs. Short, "I was attacked by neuritis. It caused terrible pains in my neck, arms and shoulders. The soreness and stiffness were exceptionally severe, and often my ankles and joints would be painfully swollen. I could not walk, every attempt causing me perfect agony and I was unable to rest day or night."

On the urgent advice of a nurse I began taking Tanlac. Within two weeks I was so much improved I was able to walk about the house. I took four bottles, and at present I am totally free from any trace of my old malady. I will always feel that I am deeply indebted to Tanlac. Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

BEER-WINE CHAISE IS FAVORED BY COL. FRED LISTER

Conservative Member Tells House That It Would Help Exterminate Bootlegger.

Says Returned Men Dispossessed Because They Would Not Salute L.S.B. Colonels

Approval of the policy of the Liquor Board in establishing liquor stores extensively throughout the Province was expressed in the Legislature by Col. Fred Lister, Conservative member for Kaslo.

"Where men can go to a Government liquor store and buy liquor legitimately, it does more to eliminate the bootlegger than anything else that we can do," Col. Lister said.

There was applause from Capt. Ian Mackenzie of Vancouver and other members when Col. Lister said he hoped amendments would be made to the liquor act which would lead to the sale of beer and light wines by the soldier settlement area in his constituency by the Land Settlement Board. Col. Latta was a good soldier, he added, but he didn't think Col. Latta knew sufficient about agricultural land to write the report which he recently turned out and which was worth very much. He also asked where Col. Latta got the qualifications to say that certain men should be ordered off their settlements and sent to the army.

"I don't know why some of these men should be ordered off except that they believe that they are out of the army and don't have to salute every colonel that comes around," Col. Lister went on. "These men don't intend to do that and possibly have some of these gentlemen who come around who they thought of them and I would do the same thing. Many of these men were forced and ordered to leave through no earthly reason."

Col. Lister declared that the Government could do more to assist agriculture by giving the two soldier settlements of Lister and Merville a better show than they have had. Late gave figures showing that 1,500,000 pounds of fresh pork and 420,000 pounds of mutton were imported into B. C. last year, besides quantities of peas and beans which could have been raised here, and all the time agriculturists were in such bad shape that they had had to borrow money from the banks on their crops for this year and now they could get in money from the crops and the banks were asking to be paid back.

Col. Lister said that in the sale of Government irrigated lands at Oliver the returned soldier got a rebate of $500 on his purchase of property. At a recent sale in Creston four or five soldiers bought land thinking they would get the same rebate, but on application to Victoria the rebate was refused. He wanted to know why the distinction and asserted that it involved a broken promise on the part of the Government.

The soldier member urged the Attorney-General to have inspectors go through camps to inspect and report on sanitary conditions instead of waiting for complaints to be made by the men themselves, pointing out that when the men were discovered complaining they were penalized by the employers.

The new game regulations were hard on many trappers, he said, as only short notice was given of the six months' notice was given of the new regulations.

He reported conflict in the new regulations which were such that men in the strawberry growing part of this constituency were not allowed to destroy weeds by the only possible method, that of burning. He urged the Minister of Mines to clear up some of the trails to mines, pointing out that road around Creston needed repairs, and counselled the Minister of Public Works to continue to work on road repairs as it gave them a chance to get in a little money for their taxes.

Col. Lister also pressed for the completion of the Kaslo-Creston Highway, saying that much motor tourist traffic was being lost to the country because this work has not been done.

He paid a tribute to the late John Keen, his predecessor as representative of Kaslo in the Legislature. "I can assure all the honorable members of this House that I think just as highly of the late John Keen as any other member," he said.

WARREN WELL RECEIVED ON PRAIRIE TRIP

Urges Prairie People to Spend Winters in Canada Instead of States

Prairie people who are thinking of wintering away from the cold of Alberta, Saskatchewan and making their homes on the Coast are listening eagerly to lectures on Victoria and Vancouver Island by George I. Warren, Publicity Commissioner of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, according to word that reached the City Hall to-day.

"A great many people have a wrong conception of Vancouver Island," Mr. Warren told an audience in Prince George, B. C., recently. "Some think that Victoria and Vancouver are one and the same place. As a matter of fact, they are 55 miles away from each other and enjoy different climatic conditions altogether. The island itself is large, being 255 miles long and an average of 55 miles wide. Its indentations and channels give it 7,000 miles of coastline. It has twelve organized communities, in and around the coast, and is one of the most beautiful places in the world. Everywhere one sees luxuriant growth and beautiful flowers."

Mr. Warren is warning the prairie people that when they spend their winters in California Canada suffers

I have told a number of friends what it has done for me and give you permission to use my letter as a testimonial." — Mrs. JESSIE PETERSEN, Route 1, Jasper, Minn.

There is no better reason for your trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound than this—it has helped other women. So if you suffer from displacements, irregularities, backache, nervousness or are passing through the Change of Life, remember that splendid medicine. VICTORIANS HEAR BLIND PIANIST

Digby Tomlinson in Recital; Mrs. Jesse Longfield Assists

While the recital given by Vancouver's blind pianist, Digby Tomlinson, in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel was not announced nor was anticipated as a big undertaking, there was nevertheless sufficient and ample reason for a larger number of musical people than were present last evening in support of one of the Mainland's talented musicians. The occasion was not one for criticism, if any; rather, indeed, did one find amid many moments of wonder, much to congratulate and much to praise.

Digby Tomlinson has accomplished much indeed and he is one of those students ever ambitious, seeking the goal of success, which in his case, is surrounded with almost insurmountable difficulties. He has abundant natural abilities and is possessed of that keen insight which makes for a true interpretation of the composer's thoughts and aims. He has, however, a harder application, gained a technique of a high order, and surmounts the exactitudes of passages with comparative ease and fluency. He plays with great delicacy of touch, and his tone is of a pleasing and singing quality, as were delightfully in evidence in his playing of "Chant d'Amour," Op. 26; Liszt's beautiful "Liebestraume" and in his own composition, a "Reverie," the latter having throughout an enchantingly pretty melody.

In the more vigorous numbers the pianist asserted himself on all occasions, particularly in the great "Fantasy" in G Sharp Minor (Rachmaninoff), "Polonaise," Op. 40 (Chopin), and in Bartlett's "Grand Polka de Concert," Op. 14. Throughout the evening those present were lavish of the most encouraging and sincere applause, and after each of the three groups insisted on his playing a encore. On the platform, Mr. Tomlinson giving as extra numbers "The Waterfall," played with exquisite volubility; a "Lento" by Cyril Scott; Liszt's paraphrase and transcription of "Rigoletto" and "Valse Brillante" (Chopin).

Mrs. Jesse Longfield, who assisted the pianist, gave two excellent groups of songs, and again maintained the high order in the ranks of Western singers in which she is firmly established. She sang delightfully last evening, and some of the lovely tones of her beautiful mezzo soprano voice gave much pleasure. Perhaps the best liked numbers were "My Destiny," by Marie Walters Kennedy, and "Thanks Be to God" (Stanley Dickson), the latter being admirably suited to her voice and was splendidly rendered.

Mrs. Longfield met with a most cordial reception and was obliged to add extra numbers, responding with "Three" and "Homage." Mrs. A. J. Gibson, already so well known as an excellent accompanist, gave ample and skilful support to the singer.
